Three College Collaboration

OCTOBER 2020
DIGEST

BOW UPDATES
UPCOMING EVENTS
EXCITING OPPORTUNITIES

We hope you are having a great start to the semester! The BOW Digest is a great way for you to stay-up-to-date with what is going on at the three campuses. Have an opportunity or event you would like included in next month's digest? Email jengle@olin.edu at least two weeks prior to your event.

BOW UPDATES:

BOW Big Ideas

BOW faculty and staff are invited to sign up to give a "Big Ideas" talk here by October 30th. Tell us a bit about what you would like to share. Five-minute talks from individuals, small groups and nominations for talks are all welcome! Your ideas, fully formed or works-in-progress that are: Potentially Disruptive (challenging the status quo in some given field), Potentially Groundbreaking (now or in the future), Fresh (rather than copying or imitating something in existence), or Totally Weird (We are not joking) are especially welcome. Six talks that represent a diversity of perspectives from the BOW community will be selected by the organizing committee. Proposers will be notified by Friday, November 13th. If chosen to present your talk, you will also receive this.

Inspired by the 'Big Ideas for Busy People' event at the Cambridge Science Festival, BOW Big Ideas is a fun, interactive event that brings together BOW faculty and staff to share and discuss great ideas. The BOW faculty and staff Big Idea talks are 5-minutes each, followed by 5 minutes of Q&A. The event will be held on Wednesday, December 16 at 4:00 PM. Please register for the event here.

BOW Financial Literacy Program

This July, staff and faculty from Babson, Olin, and Wellesley hosted "How to Manage Your Money in College and Beyond," a series of three free virtual personal finance workshops for students from all three colleges. Workshop materials were provided by the Babson Financial Literacy Project. A total of 90 attendees participated across the three workshops. Thank you to the Babson Financial Literacy Project, Olin's HOPES (Helping Oliners Plan Economic Success) financial wellness program, and Susan Wood at Wellesley for making this series possible. Continued collaboration and workshops are being planned for the upcoming school year.

UPCOMING EVENTS

October 21, 2020, 4:00 PM

Global Fall Fashion Show

On October 21, 2020, at 4 pm EST, the Weissman Foundry & the Fashion Entrepreneurial Initiative \(FEI\)/Arthur Blank Center for Entrepreneurship will be hosting a GLOBAL FALL FASHION SHOW (ONLINE) featuring the work of Current Student (Undergraduate and Graduate) & Alumni Babson-Olin-Wellesley (BOW) Fashion Entrepreneurs as well as corporate partners! (The show will be recorded for those that are not able to attend.)

You are invited to share a short presentation of your fashion creations along with text narration that you would like our Live Video Hosts to read. Text narration should include an introduction (I.E. - name, school affiliation, etc.), description of the piece(s), and any other relevant information. Submit 1 to 3 PowerPoint slides (.pptx or .ppt filetypes only) with a maximum of 50 words per slide (written at the bottom of the slide, presenter notes) no later than Wednesday, October 14th. Preference will be given to early submissions, so please let us know asap if you would like to participate! Please click here to fill out the submission interest form.
